You can settle for a home that doesn't check everything off your want list, you can compromise on the home you've been waiting for or you can custom build on this incredibly scenic one acre lot on Johns Island that sits on a pond. Not only is it getting harder and harder to find land in the low country but its especially difficult to locate such a beautiful lot as this where you can have water views from throughout your home. You'll also enjoy being so close to the infamous Angel Oak, the happening lifestyle at Folly Beach and the white sand shorelines at Kiawah and Seabrook. If you've been dreaming of making your custom home a reality, waking up everyday to water views and being located in picturesque John's Island, come by to see the location of your future home!
